

Abstract of the Disclosure:

A fabric tube made from highly resistant and thermostable threads has at least one tube end that is inverted inwards, the inverted tube section resting substantially parallel on 5 the inner wall of the fabric tube. Two of such tubes can be connected to each other for forming a jointed tube. A method for producing the jointed tube uses a transition piece for connecting the individual parts to each other.

REL/nt